BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION, PH.D.

The Ph.D. in Business Administration is an innovative research program designed to prepare students for careers as faculty in academic institutions and as professionals in research organizations and government institutions. The program is intended for faculty members in business schools who do not have a Ph.D. but are interested in a research-based doctoral degree and individuals in government or industry who would like to transition to academia and are looking to enroll in a research-based doctoral program.

The program is cohort-based and requires a total of 54 credit hours to complete. Students are expected to complete the program in five years with three and a half years of course work. It is mandatory that students take two courses per semester so that they complete the core courses of the program in the first three years. The core course work includes major courses, basic field courses, and courses in research methods. Students will select one of the three areas in the program - international business, organizational behavior, and strategic management - to be their major area and another area to be their supporting area. The program is available to students with a master's degrees in a business field or related area such as economics, sociology, political science, psychology, or public administration.

For information regarding deadlines and requirements for admission, please see https://grs.uncg.edu/programs/.

Admission into the doctoral program in Business Administration is highly selective. At a minimum, applicants should possess a completed master's degree in a business field or related area with superior performance in graduate course work.
