Mission
The mission of the Department of Public Health Education is to promote health by supporting the learning, decision-making and capacity of individuals, groups, and communities. In collaboration with Piedmont Triad community organizations, the department prepares professional health educators and advances public health practice and knowledge.

Professor
Daniel L. Bibeau
William Nelson Dudley
James M. Eddy
Tracy R. Nichols
Michael A. Perko
Paige Hall Smith
Robert W. Strack

Academic Professional Professor
Regina Lynette McCoy

Associate Professor
Sandra E Echeverria
Kay Ann Lovelace
Sharon D. Morrison
Kelly L Rulison
Mark R. Schulz
Amanda E Tanner
David L. Wyrick

Academic Professional Associate Professor
Carrie M Rosario

Assistant Professor
Jennifer Toller Erausquin
Jeffrey John Milroy
Erica Danielle Payton

Academic Professional Assistant Professor
Crystal Tiffany Ann Dixon
Christina Michelle Yongue

Visiting Assistant Professor
Meredith Rapport Gringle

Graduate-level faculty