Mission
The UNC Greensboro School of Theatre's mission is to prepare students to be informed theatre practitioners with commitment to creativity, innovation, inclusion, and the advancement of the art form. Our rigorous B.A., B.F.A., and M.F.A. programs educate and train exemplary interdisciplinary theatre makers with the knowledge, skills, and vision to work professionally in the performing arts and beyond.

Undergraduate Study
The School of Theatre offers a full range of liberal arts and professional degree programs that prepare undergraduate students for a variety of career opportunities in theatre and beyond. The School offers the following undergraduate degree programs:

- B.A. in Drama (liberal arts)
- B.F.A. in Drama, with concentrations in
  - Acting
  - Design and Technical Production
  - Musical Theatre
  - Theatre Education (Teacher Licensure)

The degrees, which are accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre, provide students with a vital mix of course work that combines theory and practice and allows for the development of discipline specific and interdisciplinary skills and talents.

The School also offers three minors in Drama, Technical Theatre, and Theatre Management. Each minor requires completion of 18 credit hours of courses. The minors are broadly designed and include a variety of course selections and should be of interest to students with general interests in these areas who are majoring in complementary fields such as Media Studies, Communication Studies, Consumer, Apparel, and Retail Studies, English, Music, Art, and Dance.

The School's rich and varied curriculum is matched by an extensive co-curricular program that includes opportunities to participate in the School's theatre production program, which includes UNC Greensboro Theatre, N.C. Theatre for Young People, and Workshop Theatre.

Non-degree students are restricted from taking any 500-level course without the permission of the Director of the School of Theatre and course instructor. Only students officially admitted to the M.F.A program can register for 600-level courses.

Graduate Study
The School of Theatre offers one graduate degree: the M.F.A. in Drama (with concentrations in Acting, Design, Music Direction for Musical Theatre, and Theatre for Youth). The M.F.A. is a terminal master's degree designed to develop individual artistry and provide advanced, specialized training in acting, design, music direction for musical theatre, and theatre for youth. The M.F.A. is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Theatre.

The School offers a rich and varied curriculum that combines theory and practice and demands the development of skills and talents. Curricular offerings are matched by an extensive co-curricular program that includes opportunities to participate in the School's theatre production program, which includes UNC Greensboro Theatre, N.C. Theatre for Young People, and Workshop Theatre.
